"We'll All go a-shooting To-day."

Whenever I want to go shooting, As in autumn I frequently do, The most of my time I squander in wishing That things were not quite so "too-too."

The clouds seem too high or too low, Or the sunshine has made it too clear, Or the most inhospitable never did know "Which weather at this time of year."

For the day is too lousy and clear, Or perhaps it's too windy or quiet, For even a complete goose to appear, So that none but a lunatic would try it.

Or it may be too hot or too cold, Or too wet or too dry, sure as fate, Or else, to console me, I'm something told, That I'm either too early or late.

"Now it's not before and it's not after, Or 'twouldn't work on the whole," I ought, certainly, reason on carrying home Geese, chickens and ducks by the score.

My shot is too large or too small, Or I even too nervous or under, The same old tale from summer till fall, From August till late in October.

My stomach rebels and refuses, Such bills go to take it, These conditions local or no, Are all too, too utterly true.

EASTERN NEWS.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE-SHIP.

Greenway on Immigration—Thompson is Premier in at but name—Methodists opposed to Thompson—An Indian uprising—Gilmore is dead—The Pan-Prebyterianians—Chief Ritchie's funeral—Ontario Pilgrims to St. Anne.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Considerable speculation is already indulged in as to the succession of the chief justiceship of the supreme court, rendered vacant by the death of Sir William Ritchie. The position for some time past has come to be regarded as the birthright of Sir John Thompson, but the political situation is now so complicated it is thought he will not desert his party. A member of the cabinet showed no hesitation in expressing the belief that he will remain in the cabinet, although it is admitted that if Thompson consulted his personal inclinations he would gladly desert the round table for the bench. The minister of justice in the ordinary course of events is considered Abbott's successor. Moreover, the premier does not wish him to leave political life. Again, the premier always submits the name of a judge for the chief justiceship, and if he succeeded Abbott, it would be anomalous for him to resign himself for the vacancy. Everything points to the selection of Strong, senior judge, who is eminently qualified.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Premier Greenway interviewed said he was confident the Federal government will not venture to interfere with the school legislation of Manitoba. Up there, he said, everyone regards the question as settled for the Government. Even the Opposition after opposing the Public School act in the House, found on going to the country such strong feeling in favor of it that they abandoned all opposition to it.

Mr. Greenway, being asked what he thought about the suggestion that the Federal Parliament should divert some school funds to maintain Catholic schools, said they could not do it. These funds were under provincial control just as much as any other fund. This position would never stand any Federal interference of the kind. No government at Ottawa could propose it against the wish of Manitoba. Manitoba was jealous of seeing immigration administered with energy, and Mr. Greenway is going to see if something cannot be done in the way of joint work in Europe with the Dominion, the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. and the provincial government. Each of these three have agents over the water, and better results could be obtained if they worked together. Last year, he said, had been one of the best for immigration that the province had experienced for a number of years.

THOMPSON IS PREMIER.

QUEBEC, Sept. 25.—Sir John Abbott's resignation as premier of Canada and his recommendation of Sir John Thompson as his successor has been placed in possession of the latter for transmission to Lord Stanley when Sir John Thompson and his colleagues meet tomorrow. Sir John Thompson is in a position to take the title.

OFFERED TO THOMPSON.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—Mr. Dr. Carman who is here has expressed himself as opposed to Thompson as Premier. He states that he would sooner have him accept the office of Chief Justice a dozen times over. He says that Thompson's elevation to the Premiership would be distasteful to the Methodist body.

AN INDIAN UPRISING.

KEMISTON, N. B., Sept. 27.—Apaches attacked two hunters on the Rio Grande this place yesterday and killed a horse and dog belonging to J. Walker, one of the men. Walker's hat was shot to pieces and he had a very narrow escape. His companion, Frank Suter, has not been seen since and it is feared he has been killed. A large posse is searching the country and warning miners and ranchmen. These are thought to be the same Indians reported from Old Mexico last week. An uprising has been threatened for some time.

GILMORE IS DEAD.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24.—Col. Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore, the world renowned proprietor, manager and leader of the band bearing his name, died at his room at Lindell hotel at 6.45 tonight, of heart failure, due to indigestion. Gilmore for several days has been feeling unwell and consulted a local physician, by whom he was treated for indigestion. This afternoon for the first time since the beginning of his present engagement at the exposition here he did not occupy his usual place, and while the band at the hotel's concert. No one surmised, however, that his illness was of a serious nature, and but few believed the first report of his death. The remains will be taken to New York city tomorrow night on the Big Four.

THE PAN-PREBYTERIANS.

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—The Pan-Prebyterian council to be held at the next time in Glasgow in 1893, at a dozen new churches were admitted to the council, the principal churches of the Reformed church of Scotland, and a letter was read on the subject of the president, Saunders, of Biddle's University, Carolina. Dr. Ramsey, of Ballinacree, Antrim, was called to the platform and congratulated by the President on his recent return of Mrs. Grimmon, Toronto, who fell through the lattice at the Suspension Bridge on Saturday and was caught on the girdle. It was a fearful accident to the cataract, and after hanging there ten minutes she was rescued by Ramsey, who went after her on a rope.

This afternoon Mr. Hugh McKay, of Round Lake, North-West Territory, is to read a paper on the Indian aborigines.

Rev. Dr. Robinson, of Winnipeg, is to deliver an address this evening on church life and work in the British colonies.

CHIEF JUSTICE RITCHIE'S FUNERAL.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—The funeral of the late Justice Ritchie takes place this afternoon at Beechwood cemetery and will be attended by the judges of the Supreme court, members of the cabinet, local bar and private citizens. The pall bearers are Sir John Thompson, Judge Strong, Fournier, Taschereau, Gwynne and Patterson, of the Supreme court, Sheriff Sweetland and Robt. Cassels, registrar of the Supreme court. There will be service at St. George's Episcopal church and at the cemetery, Rev. Mr. Snowden officiating.

ONTARIO PILGRIMS TO STE. ANNE.

MONTREAL, Sept. 27.—Three hundred pilgrims from Lanark, Ont., and adjacent countries reached the city this morning travelling in thirteen special cars of the C.P.R., on their way to the Shrine of Ste. Anne Beaupre. This is said to be the largest pilgrimage since from Ontario.

FILE AT VIRGEN.

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE TO PROPERTY.

Winnipeg's Railway Trouble—A Nasty Accident—Attempted Rape—Fast time on a Western Road—The Crow's Nest Road.

VIRGEN, Sept. 29.—A big fire took place here at midnight last night and above commenced in rear of Central hotel stables. A strong wind from the south-east carried the flames to Wilcox and Higginbotham's stores. Keoster and Son's next caught. In a short time the Virgen house, Wyatt's stables and several other buildings including the C.P.R. railway sheds were ablaze. By extraordinary work of the fire brigade and people generally the fire was gotten under control. Loss as far as known $40,000; Insurance $20,000.

The following are the losers: White hotel, $5000; Carefoot, $1000; Hall and McDonald $1500; Grand Central, $10,000; Higginbotham, $7000; Jones, $1000.

Through Herculean efforts of the fire brigade, telegraph gang, section men and citizens generally the C. P. R. station was saved.

WINNIPEG'S STREET RAILWAY TROUBLE.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27.—There is considerable public interest in the application of the Winnipeg Street Railway company for an injunction to restrain the operation of the electric service, and there is a general opinion that the argument will be a protracted one. The affidavit of Mr. A. W. Austin, manager of the former enterprise, appended to the application for injunction, is a lengthy document and enumerates the various grounds on which the injunction is sought. It is said that the Winnipeg street railway do not rely on the clause in the contract with the city for the sole right to use the streets along which its tracks are laid, but puts forth numerous other reasons for the cessation of work on and operation of the electric service, that it will take the horses of the former company and increase its revenue. Complaint is also made that Seventeenth avenue north has been spoiled for general traffic by the description of track permitted to be laid. Mr. Austin also states that his company is prepared and willing to adopt electricity as a motive power along its entire system. The case will be called on Thursday, but it is likely that then an enlargement will be needed for a few days.

A NASTY ACCIDENT.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—F. W. Sprado, the popular manager of the Manitoba hotel, and his horse, were the unfortunate victims of a nasty accident in the hunting field on Saturday afternoon. The hounds met at Silver Heights, and about half past four were running. Mr. Sprado was riding through some scrub when his horse suddenly became entangled in an old barbed wire fence which was lying on the ground; the horse began to plunge violently and Mr. Sprado threw himself off; he got badly bruised and a kick has broken a rib. The poor horse, for whom the rider's first thoughts were, was terribly cut, and no less than thirty-six stitches were afterwards put in by Dr. Hinman, who was summoned by telephone from Sir Donald Smith's. Mr. Sprado had to walk over a mile to Mr. Leister's house, and was afterwards conveyed to the Manitoba and attended to by Dr. McArthur. He is progressing favorably, but it will be some days before he will be able to get around.

ATTEMPTED RAPE.

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 28.—A man named Jackson, living at Schreiber, and employed as an engine driver on the C. P. R., was brought from that place and committed to jail on Wednesday. The charge is attempted rape and is made by a young woman named Harvey. The preliminary hearing was held before Mr. W. C. Doherty at Schreiber, who considered that there was sufficient evidence on which to commit him for trial. According to the girl's story, Jackson who is a married man with a family, went to the house where she was employed as a domestic on August 27th. She was alone in the house at the time. He attempted to assault her but failed to accomplish his object. Some of her clothes were torn during the scuffle. Jackson, who is one of the ablest engine men on the road, feels his position keenly and a large number sympathize with him. Miss Harvey is described as being a really handsome woman, about 19 years of age, and has many friends.

FAST TIME FOR A NEW ROAD.

MACLEOD, Sept. 24.—On Saturday the train from the north pulled in two private cars "Comany and No. 77, having on board Supt. Whyte, Asst. Supt. Niblock, Supt. of Construction Brothers, and Messrs. A. M. Nanton, D. D. Mann, Lumsden, Jas. Ross, Bridgus, Hamilton and Bird. The party, with the exception of Messrs. Niblock and Brothers, proceeded early Sunday morning by teams up to Crow's Nest Pass, and came back yesterday. The run down from Calgary was completed in the fairly quick time of four hours and a quarter, inclusive of all stops, which happened to be numerous, the actual running time being about three and a quarter hours. From the New Oxley station, for a distance of fifteen miles, the rate travelled was 57 miles an hour until the un-ballooned portion of the road was reached, when they slowed down to 12 miles an hour. Fifty-seven miles an hour over a road only in existence about two months, is decidedly rapid travelling.

THE CROW'S NEST ROAD.

CALGARY, Sept. 26.—It is expected that the grading of the new road into the Crow's nest Pass will be completed within two or three weeks. Gangs of graders are scattered along the road for over eighty miles, and into the month of the pass. Grading will not pass that point, and no iron will be laid this year. On the completion of the grading, the C. & E. officials in charge of the construction of stores, etc., at Calgary, will leave for Winnipeg with the outfit.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1902.

THE NEWSPAPER EDITOR.

Little does the outside world know of the trials, troubles and tribulations of the newspaper editor, or how much the world is indebted to him. Much is expected of him, and in fulfilling such expectations the public seem to think that he should be nothing short of infallible.

He must not err, else wrathful condemnation follows, as well from his readers as from his contemporaries; and frequently, in conjunction with open condemnation, comes the oft-repeated interdiction "stop my paper." If the struggling editor asks payment of an account, a look of indignation appears on the countenance of the subscriber or advertiser. In the distribution of assets the newspaper man gets the last dividend, and even this begrudgingly. He never ranks pari passu with other creditors.

The article that pleases one is condemned by another. What the editor fancies is a well-written editorial, and one which ought to be appreciated by the readers of his journal, is admired by none, though it may have cost him much thought and time in its preparation.

Belonging to a neglected and unappreciated class of men, he never uses the pages of his paper for self-praise or his own aggrandizement. His space must be utilized at all times in depicting the exaltations and sorrows of the human race,—glorifying the deeds of the valiant, reporting the words of the eloquent, relating the romances of life that every day spring up like mushrooms. Even if he has the desire, there is too much work crowded into his twenty-four hours to give him time to tell about himself.

The past is to him as a tale that is told,—no waters that have run by. He is interested only in what he has to do to-morrow.

The newspaper editor is the most law-abiding and patient person in the world. He must ever greet his patrons with a smile, even though their subscriptions may be three years in arrears. Although he and his subscribers often disagree as to the how a paper should be managed, he must ever gracefully yield his own opinions in deference to their views, and his politeness to the advertiser is a lesson in deportment.

The intelligent compositor may rise in wrath, or go on strike if a union man is discharged, while the editor must submit or the next issue will be non est, followed by the multitudinous complaints of angry subscribers and advertisers.

He pushes his pencil and "squeals his ink," quietly submitting to the inevitable, and trusting in Providence for better times.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The floating charges preferred against the Carleton Place in connection with the subsidizing of the Quebec and St. John Railway are now being investigated by a commission. From evidence submitted thus far everything appears to have been above board and in accordance with the law.

The Japanese government has arranged to send to the United States 2,000 Japanese of the middle class, who are to attend the World's fair, and afterwards to make a tour of the principal cities of the country. The Japs will be transported by the C. P. R. steamship line to Vancouver, thence by rail to port city by the C. P. R. and connections.

During August 99 vessels entered and cleared from Port William, their registered tonnage being 41,451 tons, crew 1,092 and freight landed 23,890 tons. The exports were as follows: Wheat, 576,394 bushels; oats, 322,000 bushels; flour, 58,320 barrels; scrap iron, 652 tons, and 253 tons sundries. The customs dues amounted to $11,195.15, an increase of 1,631.53 over the receipts during August of last year.

The Dominion financial statement for the fiscal year 1891-92, ended 30th June last, shows an excess of revenue over ordinary expenditure amounting to more than a quarter of a million dollars. The revenue was as follows: Customs, $29,501,130; excise, $7,522,345; post office, $2,653,413; public works, $3,574,198; miscellaneous, $2,251,870; total, $36,903,262. Expenditures $36,629,803; surplus, $273,459. The revenue and expenditure for the month of July were as follows: Revenue, $2,256,818; expenditure, $2,149,528; surplus, $107,290.

Sir Edwin Arnold is enthusiastic regarding the C. P. R. transcontinental route, and delighted with Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest. He says to a correspondent: "I don't think the Government is generous enough to this country. They should be more liberal in their efforts to populate this land, prolific in possibilities, yet, in certainties. They should not send out paupers, but every man should have 50 pounds in his pocket. Manitoba and the Northwest should have 20,000,000 of people within the next 15 years. Yes, this is my first trip through the west. I have never been west of Toronto before. I have seen your great wheat areas now and am astonished."

Mr. Milne, past grand master of the Ontario Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, who has been making a trip through Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, says: "It is a grand country. Of course any one cannot go over any country without finding portions that do not just come up to the liking, but taking it all through the Northwest is a magnificent land." Asked how it compared with Ontario as regards the chances of obtaining a livelihood, he said this country was much superior to his province. "It is just the place," he said, "for a man with nothing to make a start, and especially a man with a large family of sons he wants to see well started in life. As long as a man is willing and able to work he can easily get along here."

The Inverness Courier speaks very highly of the Canadian exhibits at the Highland Agricultural Society's recent show at Inverness, Scotland. It says:—"One of the stands which was crowded with visitors during the afternoon was that of the Dominion of Canada, which occupies an excellent site in the vicinity of the entrance gate. This stand has been most artistically gotten up. The exhibits give a realistic idea of the great resources of Canada, both from an agricultural and sporting point of view. There are several photographs of large holdings in Canada, one of which is held by a man belonging to the Elgin district, who went out to Canada as a ploughman. Mr. Graham, who superintends the stand, gave interesting particulars to the visitors, and was assisted by ex-Battle Stuart, Inverness, who has but recently returned from a visit to the Dominion."

The industrial progress of Canada during the past decade has been very marked, the amount of capital invested and the number of men employed having increased enormously. The number of factories has increased to 70,422, being 32 per cent. in excess of those in existence in 1881. The number of employees at the same time has risen to 352,661, or 45 per cent. more than in 1881. The eastern maritime provinces are those which have shown the most activity, both in proportion to its population. British Columbia holds first place. The total capital now engaged in manufacturing establishments is put down at $80,803,346 and the number of steam engines, exclusive of those in mines, ships and on farms, at 9873. This showing is most creditable and one which Canadians may well exhibit with feelings of legitimate pride.

Captain Weary, of the Imperial army, has been sent to Canada by the War Office to learn what facilities can be offered in the Dominion for the transport of troops to the East in case of sudden call. If seven days' notice was given, and the troops despatched from England by the fastest greyhounds built on admiralty lines, and they could not reach Halifax without that notice being given, the Canadian Pacific railway would be ready to handle them as fast as they left their ship. Each car would hold 64 men, and a train of 15 cars could convey a whole regiment at war strength. With seven days' notice the company could have 200 cars collected at Halifax every day, so that there would not be the slightest possible delay in shipping troops through the country. As soon as the troops could get on board the train the company would be ready to convey them to their destination, so that in case of war British troops could be packed through Canada quicker than the War Office could land them.

The Russians have joined the Americans in the policy of attempting to maintain jurisdiction in the matter of sailing in the open sea of the North Pacific. They have, however, startled themselves by overreaction, and probably injured, rather than strengthened, the American case, by compelling captured Canadian sealers to falsely confess that they were taken within three miles of the Russian territory. The Russians like the Americans, will probably have to pay dear for their sport. The United States Government has expressly declared that it has never claimed and does not now claim that Behring Sea is a close sea. Yet this is the only jurisdiction that is known to international law; therefore, the claim of a single nation to jurisdiction over wild animal life in the open sea is one which an International Commission is not likely to countenance.

The resignation of Premier Abbott may be looked for any day as his health will not permit him to continue the performance of his official duties. There is, as we have before said, not much room for speculation as to his successor. Everything points to Sir John Thompson as the man; nor is there any reason to suppose that the elevation of Sir John to the premiership would in any event imply a change of policy. The Manitoba school question may in any event prove a stumbling block to the Government; but on this, as on every other question, the government must be judged by its acts, let who will be the Premier. Manitoba is resolutely opposed to separate schools, for either Protestants or Roman Catholics, while the Roman Catholics of Manitoba, backed by those of Quebec and to some extent of Ontario, are clamorous in their demands for this mode of education. The change of premiership may emphasize the antagonism of the two opinions, but it is not probable that it can have any effect on the policy which the Dominion Government will have to decide upon, on this question.

The Canadian Northwest is knocking out all other agricultural sections of the country in the matter of fine records for farm making. A man in coming here can get government reports and statistics concerning the climate, and full information about the productions of the soil. The official reports, the returns of actual weights on the scale beam, and the balances on the right side of the ledger, are among the guarantees that this country is just the right one for new settlers. The plain truth is that people who come here and accustom themselves to the country, and exercise good sense and industry, can succeed as well as anywhere in the Dominion. Why renters should till the high priced farms of the east, with scanty living, and divide earnings with landlords, each year paying out more than the cost of getting a farm of their own, is certainly because of ignorance of the facts to be ascertained and self-denying men, the Canadian Northwest offers cheap and permanently productive soil, a maximum of results for the minimum of toil, easy access to markets, good church and school facilities and a healthy climate.

The London Daily Chronicle says:—"We learn a well known member proposes on some convenient occasion—probably when the next naval estimates come on—to move that the Admiralty be instructed to place one or more of Her Majesty's troopships at the disposal of the House for the purpose of conveying such members as care to avail themselves of the opportunity on an imperial trip to the chief British colonies. The fact that the originator of this novel idea is a Scotchman seems to preclude the supposition that it is a joke. If it is to be taken seriously we have seen much worse legislation at Westminster. It is indisputable that the large majority of members who are called upon to legislate for the empire but the vaguest idea what this 'Empire' really is, and that the sight of it would be a revelation to them. In fact, one or two officials outside parliament would be much the better for seeing a little of the countries they rule so confidently. The expense of such an Imperial education tour would not be very great, and, of course, the members would be received with the greatest enthusiasm everywhere. The Canadian Pacific would take them gratis across Canada, and in most places they would be entertained at the public cost. Supposing that 300 went, it would be an advantage incalculable in money to diffuse the information that they would bring back throughout the country. Then there would be only one foreign policy, and the office of Foreign Secretary could be made non-party. That, perhaps, is the dream of the suggestor. At any rate he believes that every member would come back, like himself, a Radical jingo. It is not impossible that something may come out of suggestion."

The Toronto Weekly Empire has produced a premium for its new subscribers this autumn which really calls for special compliment. The proprietors of that paper have prepared a handsome picture of the Conservative members of Parliament, well arranged, executed in the finest type of photography, and printed on excellent paper for framing. No premium given away with newspapers this year equals it. The whole picture is large and when set off by the tasteful oak frame which is so fashionable nowadays, will make a very handsome adornment to the home. In the centre are the members of the Cabinet, while grouped around them are the supporters in the House. The pictures of Cabinet Ministers are large in size and every one is an excellent likeness. In the centre the photo of the Premier is by far the best Sir John Abbott has ever had, while that of Sir John Thompson the famous leader of the House of Commons, who is represented standing with his hands resting upon the table, an attitude he often assumes while addressing the House, is literally a speaking likeness. The photos of the individual members are capital; they are not small and unrecognizable, requiring a microscope for identification but the Conservatives of every country returning a Conservative will, in this group, possess an excellent likeness of his member.

As a work of art this group picture takes high rank; as an acceptable addition to the Conservative homes of the last it will be pretty sure to circulate from Vancouver to Halifax. The picture, to give an exact idea of its importance, measuring 3 feet 6 inches by 2 feet 4 inches. On the margin is a convenient key, giving the names of every member with the number corresponding to the numbers on the photograph.

A peculiar feature in connection with this year's immigration is the large number of delegations from the United States, who have been sent for the purpose of spying out the land as a possible future home for themselves and their friends. During the whole of this year, party after party have been making tours of this country. They come from the far eastern and border western states, principally Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, etc., being represented.

It is worthy of note that the destination of these delegations has with few exceptions been to the Prince Albert, Calgary, Edmonton or Red Deer Districts.

It is not our purpose to deny any of these districts. Rather we deem it a cause for congratulation on the part of every resident of the Territories that we have such vast, productive tracts of land available for immigration. Nevertheless we claim that the Moose Jaw district is not receiving as great a share as it ought of the immigration that is pouring into this country.

PUBLIC OPINION.

Senator Percy in a letter to the Regina Standard on the North-West situation uses these words:

"Is it possible that Mr. Cayley intends, or that the Lieut. Governor will allow him, to act, with his colleagues, as the House's adviser for a year, when he is not justified in doing so even for one day?"

I do not care who the men are that compose the Executive, but I want to see them occupy that position by virtue of some right. I am personally a friend—or at least have been—of Mr. Cayley, and I do not hesitate to say that if he had a particle of manhood or statesmanship in him he would not have accepted, or rather held the position of leader for one day after he had failed to elect a speaker. He should have immediately advised a dissolution of the Assembly. This was the proper course, for it would have given an opportunity to those who voted for the Bette amendment, to justify the act by which they defeated the Haultain executive. In my opinion a pound-keeper should not be dismissed on an amendment worded as that was.

I am the more surprised at the course pursued by Mr. Cayley because of his having been one of the THIRTEEN who opposed the old advisory board of which Dr. Brett was a member. He is now following in the exact footsteps of that advisory, and his doing so is all the more pernicious since the Assembly's rights and powers have been increased and clearly defined, especially in regard to the expenditure and control of the revenue. This is not a despotic country. It is the people's country—not Mr. Cayley's nor yet the Lieutenant-Governor's. They have no right to stop legislation and to act as dictators for another year as he (Cayley) intimated in his newspaper interview, to be his intention.

We have here a great and grand country. The Government at Ottawa realizing this fact, have from session to session been increasing our powers of legislation, and have given us control of the funds and increased representation. Our Lieut. Governor felt justified in calling the Assembly early in August, for the transaction of business, and before even one Ordinance, or a single act of the Assembly was matured, he prorogued it. He should be held responsible for one of the two acts, viz., the calling of the House or the prorogation of it, with no business done. If the Assembly is a force then we have reason for it; we had better go back to the old so-called man-of-power system. In fact that is where we are today with a vengeance.

I took no part in the last Assembly election, but I shall feel it my duty now to stand up for the best interests of my country; to preserve her constitutional rights; to deliver her from one man rule and to help secure for the people the rights that British subjects in a British country have reason to expect. The voice of the people must be supreme and we must rid the country of the despotic power that is now administering its affairs."

Edmonton Bulletin.—The Regina Leader of the latest issue received has a would-be vicious attack upon Mr. Ross for his recent resignation of the speakership of the North-West Assembly. When we are made aware by the Leader that Mr. Ross ran "against Mr. Davin in 1887 for the Dominion House and has been sufficiently prominent for a number of years amongst the Liberals of the Territories to be known to the editor of the Globe," the dislike of the Leader to that gentleman is fully accounted for, even if he had not added the "unheard of" crime of resigning from a position of honor and emolument when his duty to his constituents and the Territories required him to do so. In attempting to to injure Mr. Ross the Leader is in the unfortunate position, so often cartooned, of a viper attacking a file. The will is there but the ability is lacking. Mr. Ross has a long and honorable record as a North-West legislator, and his last act for which the Leader and its like wish to see him condemned is the most honorable, because the most self-sacrificing and most important, in his long career. No doubt it is a surprise to the Leader, as it was to his honor the lieutenant-governor and his so-called executive to find that there was one man in the Territories whose position and salary could not swerve from duty. No doubt they would have thought it an excellent scheme to have been enabled to pass legislation inimical to the interests of Mr. Ross' constituency simply through Mr. Ross holding on to a salaried position which prevented him from preventing them from doing as they pleased. Had Mr. Ross taken this course and valued his position or salary more the interests of his constituency, how the righteous Leader would have decried it as it would have had a right to—on the inconsistency and weakness, and indeed venality of the man. But Mr. Ross does not do business in that way. It is because he does not that the editors of Moose Jaw have honored him with their confidence at each successive election from '83 to the present time; and their action of which the Leader complains, proves that their confidence in Mr. Ross was not misplaced—that when he accepted the responsibility of representing their interests in the assembly he did it with the full intention of discharging that responsibility honorably and creditably to them and to himself, and that as to the place of money would stand in the way.

While the course of events in the assembly recently has certainly developed a large amount of the better or meaner side of politics—the pure greed of office and utter lack of scruple in its attainment—circumstances have also been developed which prove that there are men serving the people of the North-West to-day who are not of that stamp; who value principle more than office; who can be depended upon to do their duty under circumstances. Mr. Haultain and his colleagues in the late executive who might have retained office by some far more so little from principle, by sacrificing even to a very small degree the public interest, but who retired from power rather than do so, are such men. So is Mr. Ross who gave up his position and salary of $300 in order that he might be able to assist those whom he believed were right, and so is Mr. Rutherford who gave up the deputy-speakership and salary of $100, who refused the speakership and salary of $500, and who has since been subjected to an atrocious criminal prosecution in the same connection with a view of silencing him. These sacrifices have been made by these men in the interests of the people of the Territories. The time will soon come when the people will be called upon to say whether these men or their opponents—the men who sold themselves and hoped to purchase them with the public money—are to be honored with the public confidence."

Regina Standard.—"It is important that we impress upon the minds of those who may from time to time hold the position of lieutenant-governor, that while we, in deference to custom, bear the foolish burden of gubernatorial equipage, the occupant of that chair must be content to regard himself as a mere figurehead, and must make up in ornamentality what he lacks in usefulness. We may be sufficiently loyal to our institutions to build him a costly mansion, while we ourselves reside in shanties and tenements; we may furnish it for him with everything that he can ask for, from decorative chairs at $12.00 each, down to the apparently equally essential articles of claret jugs and whiskey jars. In view of his exalted position we may not begrudge him all this, though we ourselves supply the Throne of Grace, beside a three-legged stool, and drink our bitter from a tin cup. We may buy his carpets, sewing-machines, window-blinds, teaspoons, parlor-lamps and portraits; we may do all this, but we must draw the line when he attempts to trample under foot our constitutional rights. We reserve the liberty to resent his autocratic dictation, and shall be ever ready to challenge any appearance of intrigue between himself and any petty politician. It is only by holding a strict account our own representatives, and by insisting upon constitutional conduct on the part of the representatives of the Crown, that we can preserve our liberties and imbue our children with a proper sense of their value."

Had a High Old Time.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—If accounts be true Sir Edwin Arnold had a high old time while in Japan. It is stated on good authority that the moment he arrived in Japan he proceeded to make the acquaintance of the native dancing girls. When in Tokio, where he made the longest stay, he lived at the Hotel Imperial nominally, but nearly all his nights and most of his days were passed in the rooms of his many innamoratas. He was the most indefatigable lover the Japanese women had ever encountered and they all adored him. The foreign residents were not so well pleased with his carousings, carried on almost under the eyes of their wives and daughters. On his former trip he was accompanied by his daughter, but her presence did not restrain him in the least, and he denied himself none of the excesses for which he is famous throughout Japan. Many severe things were said of the English poet, who did not possess the entrée to the houses of reputable foreigners and was ignored by all except the Japanese. Strong influence is being brought to bear upon the mikado to appoint Sir Edwin to a position in Japan similar to that of poet laureate of England.

When he returns to Japan he will almost certainly get the appointment. Many people in Tokio maintain that Sir Edwin Arnold is an old gentleman whose chief delight is in sensual gratification. They ridicule the glamor with which he has invested the lives and habits of the Japanese people, and say that their apologies for their immorality were made to serve as a cloak for his own affairs with the little native dancing girls.

FALL OPENING H. MCDOUGALL SEASON 1892.

Six years ago when I started business on the cash plan, my merchants gave me three months to last. I am here yet and have pretty well demonstrated the fact that the people of Moose Jaw will pay cash if by doing so they can save money. This system has enabled me to throw on the market large lots of goods purchased from large wholesale stocks, parties retiring from business, and overloaded manufacturers. These I have sold at low prices at the same time selling regular goods at from 10 to 25 per cent. less than other dealers. I shall continue this method of doing business regardless of croakers.

I will have auction sales on the following dates:
OCTOBER 8TH, 15TH, 22ND AND 29TH,
OF

Cook-stoves, Heating-stoves, Stove Furniture, Cutlery, Brushes, Brooms, Etc., Etc.

I have just received a carload of all kinds of stoves. Another carload is on the way. These goods are to be sold at the lowest prices. Call and see my stock.

FOR CASH ONLY.

Thanking you for past patronage.

Yours truly,

W. R. CAMPBELL.

WEDDING BELLS.

An interesting wedding ceremony was performed in the Baptist Church on Wednesday evening. Rev. McNaught officiating.

The contracting parties were Mr. C. A. Holdsworth of the Canadian Pacific Railway service and Miss Elizabeth McKnight of Moose Jaw. The groom has been long and favorably known in Moose Jaw. He is a nephew of Mr. Geo. E. Holdsworth, our popular Car Inspector.

The bride, who is a sister of Mrs. J. McNeil, has been residing in Moose Jaw for about two years. She was attired in cream Henrietta, with a bodice of cream silk. She wore a wreath and bridal veil and the conventional orange blossoms.

The groom was supported by Mr. W. A. Burton, while Miss May McDougall performed the office of bridesmaid.

After the ceremony the bridal party accompanied by numerous friends repaired to the residence of the bride's sister, where they partook of the bridal supper, and passed the time pleasantly away until the arrival of the Atlantic express.

A large crowd gathered at the point from to bid the happy couple goodbye.

The bride was the recipient of the following presents: Cakes, silver, E. Jackson; Silver teapot, W. A. Burton; Hanging lamp, Mr. G. E. Holdsworth; Parlor lamp, Mr. and Mrs. McDougall; Casket, Mr. E. Holdsworth; Pickle-cruet, Mr. and Mrs. McNeil; Set of silver knives and forks, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard; Set of silver spoons, Mr. J. E.
